

The Bride

..

THE BRIDE

GREATHALLANDTHRONE ROOM

The massive doors that opened the way to the Throne Room were of the finest solid gold.

The type of pure gold that man has never known to exist.

The two guardian angels, that stood on each side of the doors, were clothed in a brilliant, glistening white robe.

They had gold sandals on their feet and gold girdles on their waists.

They had massive wings and carried golden swords.

Their duty was to guard the entrance to the Throne Room.

The walls were purest white gold with gold trim.

The floor was made of the finest solid gold.

The golden floor shone as the sun and it reflected all the images in the Throne Room.

A river, as it seem, of deep blue ran the length of the Throne Room.

The river flowed from the Throne of GOD to the massive golden entrance doors.

The river looked like a sapphire.

One liquid sapphire made to flow as water.

On each side of the blue river was a great gathering of the heaven.

All the angelic beings were present.

They all were adorned with brilliant white glistening robes.

All had golden girdles on their waists and golden sandals on their feet.

Some of the angelic beings had on blue scarves with golden laurels.

All the angelic beings were facing the middle of the room, where the blue river was flowing.

The angels had no earthly color.

They were the color of their robes, brilliant white with glistening skin.

In front of the massive gathering of the holy angels, were larger angels that stood shoulder to shoulder with massive wings.

The angels had on white robes, golden sandals and golden girdles.

The angels each had two huge golden sickle shaped swords, they crossed in front of their chest.

The FATHER, SON and HOLY GHOST were standing at the Throne of GOD.

Although they are not seen, the eternal light of GOD filled the Throne Room.

To the left of the Throne of GOD, sat the Ink Horn scribe.

He has written and kept a written history of every man GOD created.

He has written every thought, word and deed of every man, to be a witness for judgment day.

The Ink Horn Scribe, is arrayed in a blue robe, similar in color to the blue river in the floor.

He has on a golden girdle and golden sandals.

He has a golden laurel draped about his neck.

He is seated at a solid gold table.

His chair is solid gold.

A golden book is on his desk and a golden pencil is laid next to the book.

The two seraphim angels were flying across the Throne Room.

They each had six wings. Two wings they covered their face, two wings they covered their feet and with two wings they flew.

They each proclaimed to the other: "Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory."

The thunderous sound of their wings and the power of their voices shook the Throne Room.

Gabriel was standing on a platform between the Throne of God and the Ink Horn Scribe.

He was arrayed in a brilliant white glistening robe.

He had on golden sandals, a golden girdle on his waist and golden laurels.

When Gabriel appeared, the two seraphim angels instantly ceased flying and took their positions above the Throne of God.

The Throne Room was completely quiet.

Two angelic beings stood on each side of the blue river.

They had golden horns in their hands.

They had on brilliant white robes, gold sandals and golden girdles.

They both held up the horns and blew a note.

The guardians at the entrance opened the doors.

The Ink Horn Scribe opened the golden book.

The book had gold writing from top to bottom.

The Ink Horn Scribe began to read from the book.

(What he read was not audible.)

The Ink Horn Scribe turned the pages and read from each page.

When he completed his reading he looked up at Gabriel.

Gabriel, proclaimed with a loud and thunderous voice, "THE BRIDE OF CHRIST!!!"

All of heaven turned their heads toward the massive gold opened doors.

Gabriel proclaims, "AFRICA!"

The angelic beings that had been assigned to the continent, before time, walk in first.

They proceed down the aisle to the Throne of God.

They bow before the Throne.

They separated, half on each side of the blue sapphire river.

The continent of Africa enters, under the eyes of all ages.

They are arrayed in their different native attire.

The people proceed down the blue sapphire aisle and bow before the Throne of God.

They rose and split, half on one side of the blue river and the other half across from them.

Gabriel proclaims, "AUSTRALIA!"

The angelic beings that had been assigned to the continent before time, walk in first.

They proceed down the aisle to the Throne of God.

They bow before the Throne and separate half on each side of the blue sapphire river.

The continent of Australia enters.

They are attired in their native costumes.

They proceed down the blue aisle to the Throne of God.

They bow and rise.

They split, one half on each side of the blue river.

Gabriel proclaims, "EUROPE!"

The angelic beings who were assigned to the continent of Europe before time, enter.

They proceed down the sapphire blue aisle to the Throne of God.

They bow, rise and split to each side of the blue aisle.

The continent of Europe enters.

The people are dressed in the different native costumes.

Europe proceed down the aisle and bows before the Throne of God.

They rise and split to each side of the blue aisle.

Gabriel proclaims, "GREENLAND!"

The angelic beings who were assigned to the continent of Greenland before time enter.

They proceed down the sapphire blue aisle to the Throne of God.

They bow, rise and split to each side of the blue aisle.

The continent of Greenland enters.

The people are dressed in their native costumes.

Greenland proceeds down the aisle and bows before the Throne of God.

They rise and split to each side of the blue aisle.

Gabriel proclaims, "NORTH AMERICA!"

The angelic beings who were assigned to the continent of North America enter.

They proceed down the sapphire blue aisle to the Throne of God.

They bow, rise and split to each side of the blue aisle.

The continent of North America enters.

The people are dressed in their native costumes.

North America proceeds down the aisle and bows before the Throne of God.

They rise and split to each side of the blue aisle.

Gabriel proclaims, "SOUTH AMERICA!"

The angelic beings who were assigned to the continent of South America before time enter.

They proceed down the sapphire blue aisle to the Throne of God.

They bow, rise and split to each side of the blue aisle.

South America enters and proceeds down the aisle.

They are attired in their native attire.

South America bows before the Throne of God.

They rise and split to each side of the blue aisle.

Gabriel proclaims, "BLACK AMERICA!"

Everyone, from angelic beings to man, turned to see Black America.

NO BLACK AMERICA.

Gabriel looks.

The Ink Horn Scribe began to flip the pages of his book reading each page.

Gabriel looks at the Ink Horn Scribe.

Then he, and everyone, turn and look at the Throne.

The two guardians close the massive doors.

Heaven is completely quiet.

Everyone is waiting for a word from GOD.

Then later, there arose noise on the outside of the massive doors.

Everyone looked towards the doors.

Voices could be heard outside.

One male voice said, "Hey man, hows my fro?"

Another male voice said, "Like my gators?"

The guardians opened the massive solid gold doors.

Gabriel proclaims, "BLACK AMERICA!"

The Ink Horn Scribe stands up to see this group of people.

A large group of angels entered before Black America.

Some of the angels had afros, braids and dreads.

The heavenly host stared at the angels with Black America.

The angels with Black America smiled and profiled as they walked down the blue sapphire aisle.

The heavenly angels looked down at the golden alligator shoes one of the angels was wearing.

And he smiled as he was the object of their attention.

The heavenly angels looked at some of the angels who had taken their gold girdles and tied them about their necks as large gold chains.

All eyes were on them as they proceeded down the aisle to the Throne of God.

They bowed, rose and split to each side of the blue aisle.

As Gabriel, the Ink Horn Scribe, the angels with the golden horns and the guardians at the door looked at the Black America angels.

An angel took out a gold boom box and hit the button.

A few notes of music played.

The slaves entered.

They were dressed in raggedly slave attire.

Everyone turned and saw the slaves.

The entire heaven saw the slaves.

They gave the slaves reverence because of the atrocities they endured.

There was a quiet sadness throughout the Throne Room.

The rope burns from lynching could be seen on some of the necks, some had been lamed, broken backs, some had limbs missing and some were disfigured.

They entered and proceeded down the aisle to the Throne of God.

They bowed and remained bowed before the Throne.

The music continued.

A group of Black Americans dressed in white enter.

The men wore white shirts and pants and the women white dresses.

They performed steps (similar to the Greek fraternities and sororities) as they proceeded down the aisle to the Throne.

They bowed and remained bowed.

The last group of Black America entered and performed a dance similar to the "electric slide" down the aisle to the Throne.

They bowed as the leader slid down between the slaves and the steppers to the Throne.

The leader bowed his head.

GOD spoke, all of heaven shook.

The leader lifted up his head and said, "Why are we late? SIR, we all decided to walk."

GOD spoke again, all of heaven shook.

The leader, lifted up his head again and said, "Well LORD GOD, the chariot you sent looked like a ship to us. And we just weren't falling for that again."

Black America rose up.

The slaves were made whole as they rose.

The rope burns were removed.

Their backs were straightened, limbs were given, eyes were given and new teeth.

The slaves' backs were unbroken, their necks were unbroken.

The Throne Room watched in awe.

GOD spoke and all of heaven shook.

Black America, all the nations, all the heavenly beings jumped with joy.

There was gladness and joy.

Even the mighty angels rejoiced at the Greatness of the LORD GOD as HE presented the BRIDE to HIS Son JESUS.

There was a great blast of pure white light from the Throne.

The light was greater than abillion suns.

All the garments of the nations were change to white linen, which represent the righteousness of the saints.

The proclamation was made to all of heaven to join the WEDDING FEAST of the SON and HIS BRIDE.

Through the brilliant white light the Bride (nations of men were) dancing and rejoicing.