

THE RETURN

I sat.

Confused not being able to think.

It has been three years since that day.

I still sit, confused, not being able to think.

I remember on that day only two of us were in our work area and I had just returned from lunch with a co-worker.

And instantly as I sat down I was in gray clouds and saying, “God I can’t focus. God I can’t focus. God I can’t focus.”

Then I began to descend backward and I saw the column in the hallway and then the clock hanging from the ceiling in the hallway.

I lifted up my head as I sat in my office cube and looked at the clock – no time had passed – I became disturbed.

The remembrance of the graying clouds of mist, falling backwards and above all saying. “God I can’t focus,” confirmed to me I had been in the presence of the Lord God Almighty.

Knowing that had occurred it startled me.

I was startled because I knew I had died and went before the only True and Living God and something had happened within an instance.

And I did not know what!

And not knowing what had taken place caused me to be startled.

I began to rationalize.

I said, “Why should I have died? I am not as good or bad as the next Christian.”

I began to say to God, “Why me? I have not done anything. And on my job in front of my enemies?”

I kept saying to God, “Please don’t let me die in front of my enemies. What have I done that would cause me to die?”

I kept thinking about it and praying to God about, “Why me?”

I kept asking God to let me remember what happened.

Then a memory came to me.
I remembered standing and everything was white like a cloud.

Far off I saw two figures.

They were white and round.

The two figures were bouncing in excitement and joy.

I knew the two figures were happy at seeing me and was excited I was there.

One figure was larger than the figure that appeared to be standing behind Him.

They were standing in front of a large white structure like a building that had openings on the second floor.

I was in shock.

The figures knew I was shocked at what I was seeing.

They stopped bouncing and to me dancing and moving and stood still.

And to my left I heard a voice say, "It's nice."

And a very white face with beautiful blue green eyes peeped around into my shocked face and said, "It is really nice."

I turned my head slightly and looked at the being.

I barely could nod my head for yes.

I have been praying to God and Jesus asking them not for me to die, especially in front of my enemies, but to give me a chance to grow in Them and become the person They want me to become.

Every ache and pain I have I run to the doctor or computer to find out what it is.

I asked friends to pray for me and seek God for an answer for me of 'why me'.

I told my family in case I do die what my plans and intentions are.

The most important thing to me is to get to know God, Jesus and the Holy Ghost and become like Jesus and above all to be "well pleasing" before God Almighty.

Daily my desire is to be the person God wants me to be.

I thank God and Jesus for delivering me from "sins" that could sink my boat.

The things/sins that could keep me from growing and getting to know God and Jesus.

Each day my desire is to “well please God the Father” and become like Jesus on the earth.

But I still ask God all the time to let me live and not die.

I feel to die now in front of my enemies would be shameful to me and they would believe God killed me in retaliation for them.

If God has brought the event back to me I have not remembered it.

But I thank God and Jesus every day for giving me the blessing to live longer.

Thank You, GOD and JESUS to allow me time to work out my soul salvation with fear and trembling.

Thank YOU, GOD and JESUS to let me grow more in Jesus and become the person You and JESUS want me to be.
